

Friends of Cornish Hill present:
The Koala Clancy Foundation
Sunday 4th of June 3:30 to 5 pm
Daylesford Neighbourhood Centre,
the Paddock Room.
Gold coin donation to the Foundation.

Janine Duffy, Director of the Koala Clancy Foundation and koala behaviour expert extraordinaire is coming to Daylesford!

Janine has been studying the Koala population of the You Yangs for over twenty years, and pioneered the use of nose pattern recognition as a way to recognise individual koalas.

Koalas are one of the ten species worldwide most at risk from climate change. Increased carbon dioxide in the air is changing the chemical composition of eucalyptus leaves, making it harder for koalas to find food.

With numbers in decline, Janine will enlighten us about the effect of climate change and conservation of these endearing Australian mammals. Janine will also inform us about what we can do to ensure the future of koalas.

Light refreshments will be available after the presentation.
